College students and staff join in climate protest

STAFF and students from West Lancashire College joined young people from schools, colleges and universities throughout the world in a protest against climate change last week.

The Campaign against Climate Change pushes for the "urgent and radical action" it says is needed to tackle the growing climate emergency.

Students at the Skelmersdale-based college discussed the issues of climate change and the importance of having a voice in their lessons, then shared their passion about having an impact and ensuring that a " liveable planet" is left for the future.

The Climate Strike was also backed by The University and College Union who called on the TUC to support the school student strikes.

Business lecturer, Catherine Shiel said: "Climate change is affecting us all and it's important that we highlight this with our students, as well as expose them to the democratic process and creating internal debate on how to be a responsible citizen when diverse views are involved."

A School Strike for Climate event will be held at Ormskirk Clock Tower between 9am and 3pm on Friday, September 27 when people from schools - and potentially others too - will be taking the day off to protest about the threat to the planet.

VETERAN'S FINAL TRIBUTE TO HIS FALLEN COMRADES

"I don't want people to forget ... they gave their lives for us"

Report by Kenny Parker

A 94-YEAR-old Second World War veteran from West Lancs has made an emotional trip to the Netherlands to pay a final touching tribute to his comrades who didn't make it back.

Joe Mawdsley from Aughton was a 19-year-old soldier with the 1st Battalion Border Regiment when they received the call to take part in Operation Market Garden - an ultimately ill-fated attempt by Allied forces to create a path into the north of Germany between September 17 and 25, 1944.

He was one of 35,000 airborne troops flown in behind enemy lines on a glider on the second day of the attack.

Coming under fire, Joe and his fellow troops were pinned down for nearly two days in a wood by heavy artillery and screaming bombs.

Joe Mawdsley at the Oosterbeek War Cemetery, Arnhem this week.

Joe as a young soldier.

Returning this week for the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Arnhem, Joe told TV crews covering the event: "You'd get them screaming overhead and then they kept coming over and they knew where we were in the woods. We were lucky to get out but we had little choice but to leave the woods."

But things went from bad to worse for Joe and his pals.

"We heard this noise, it was a Tiger Tank with Germans all over the thing, jumping off and shouting. That's when I knew what war was."

Joe was hit by a sniper, sustaining serious injuries to his shoulder and arm before being captured by the Germans and spending the rest of the conflict as a prisoner of war.

He was one of 18,000 troops killed, injured or taken prisoner during Operation Market Garden.

Making the 500-mile journey to Oosterbeek cemetery this week with son Graham to mark the 75th anniversary, Joe believes it will be the last time he has the chance to honour his lost pals.

Applause

A wheelchair-bound Joe and the dwindling band of fellow surviving veterans were given a guard of honour and greeted by spontaneous applause from the crowds gathered for the moving ceremony.

Interviewed for TV among the graves, Joe said he was there to remember "these lads that never got back

"I don't want people to forget, we don't want no more wars, nobody wins."

And, nodding towards the final resting places of his fallen comrades, he added: "You can't forget these ones. They gave their lives for us."

Edge Hill rated fourth in North West in latest Times university guide

EDGE Hill University has been ranked fourth in the North West in The Times and Sunday Times Good University Guide 2020.

Published as a 96-page supplement in The Sunday Times on September 22, the guide provides a ranking for UK universities and an overview of higher education in Britain.

It includes profiles on 134 universities and the definitive UK university rankings, making use of the latest data published in the past two months.

And it aims to provide students and their parents with a first reference point on the path to finding a university place.

The league table is made up of nine 'indicators' featuring student satisfaction with teaching quality and their wider student experience; research quality; graduate prospects; entrance qualifications held by new students; degree results achieved; student/staff ratios; service and facilities spend; and degree completion rates.

Edge Hill rose four places in the national rank from 59 to 55.

The university's score for the National Student Survey teaching quality was 82.1%, the National Student Survey student experience was 79.1%, the Graduate prospects (in professional jobs or graduate-level study) was 77.2% and the completion rate was 85.1%.

In the regional rankings, Edge Hill was placed above Liverpool John Moores University, Manchester Metropolitan University and Central Lancashire University.

The University of the Year in the North West was Lancaster University, while Cambridge University was named the best university nationally for a seventh year in succession.

Edge Hill Vice-Chancellor, John Cater, said: "To have achieved our highest-ever ranking is welcome recognition of our focus on student experience and providing exceptional teaching.

"Equipping our students with the skills they'll need in the world of work is embedded in all our courses, ensuring our graduates are fully prepared to embark on successful careers."

University defends policy on student parking management

EDGE Hill University has defended its policy of managing student car parking following the latest complaints about vehicles being parked dangerously on the pavements outside the campus.

Champion reader Anna Hale expressed concerns after witnessing double parking on the grass at the entrance to the campus and parking on the pavement along the busy St Helens Road, one of the major routes into the town.

Claiming this presented a major obstacle for pedestrians with prams or in wheelchairs, she described the situation as "an accident waiting to happen."

And she called on the university to provide more car parking spaces and warn students about parking dangerously.

In response a spokesperson for the university said: "The demand for parking on campus fluctuates as a result of attendance patterns over which the university has limited control, in particular for professional programmes where trainee attendance is determined by nationally prescribed curriculum and the requirements of the placement provider.

"Given this, we recognise that the first few weeks of the autumn term are particularly challenging.

"We have developed and implemented an approved Green Travel Plan which encourages all campus users to use alternative modes of transport whenever possible.

"The plan includes the Edge Link bus, public transport, a cycle locker scheme, guaranteed parking for car sharers and advice and recommendation that the local council-owned parking facilities are used as necessary.

"We also make it clear to any individual who chooses to park legally on the public highway that they should do so safely and considerately in accordance with the Highway Code and any local parking restrictions -paying particular care and attention in local residential areas."

As recently reported in the Champion, Edge Hill has applied to West Lancs Council for retrospective planning permission to convert a temporary car park on Green Belt land adjacent to Scarth Hill Lane into a permanent overflow car parking facility space.

However, the plans have met with opposition from local residents who say that they would be detrimental to the local Green Belt, despite the university's claims to the contrary.

Bishop 'saddles up' to raise funds for Uganda mission!

Community effort raises £1,000-plus for clean water project with 4,234-mile sponsored stationary 'bike ride'

Report by Kenny Parker

IT'S not really the done thing to tell a bishop to 'get on your bike' - but the Right Reverend Beverley Mason was more than happy to do just that in aid of a good cause during a visit to a West Lancs church over the weekend!

Bishop Mason, the Bishop of Warrington, was presiding at St John the Baptist Church in Burscough where parishioners were holding a sponsored stationary bike ride to raise funds for a humanitarian trip to Uganda.

A group of 15, including nine youths, will be going to Buikwe, Uganda in February to work with charity International Needs on their WASH project which aims to provide local communities in the African country with access to clean water and sanitation.

As part of fundraising for the trip, the group set themselves a sponsored challenge to cycle the equivalent of the distance from Burscough to Buikwe - 4,234 miles - on stationary cycles at Burscough Racquet and Fitness Centre.

And it wasn't just members of the team who took up the challenge, as enthusiastic members of the public and the gym also took part - plus Bishop Mason who joined in the fun on Sunday morning - with organiser Liz Hale praising the "real community feel" to the event.

Bishop Beverley Mason with Joanna Marshall, leader of the St John the Baptist Church Uganda trip.

In addition, other members of the local community 'donated' miles they clocked cycling while along the canal and around the county. In total more than £1,000 was raised.

The team at St John's who will work specifically in the village of Lweru, have been fundraising to ensure that new boreholes are sunk and failing ones restored, materials for wash rooms and latrines provided for the neediest in the community, water tanks installed in four local schools and that the community is educated in safe hygiene practices.

During their trip they hope to meet members of the WASH committee and help out with some of the projects by building tippy taps, washing racks for utensils and attend schools and churches.

Tippy taps work by using the foot to tap a lever to tip water out from a container. It means hands can be washed without touching the stand, therefore stopping the spread of dirt and bacteria.

Liz Hale said: "Our Uganda 2020 team would like to say a big thank-you to all who supported us over the weekend, especially all our friends and the local community who cycled with us and smashed our 4,234-mile target.

"We would also like to mention Serco staff at Burscough Racquet and Leisure Sports Centre who provided the facilities for the weekend, West Lancashire Community Leisure Trust for sponsoring our hoodies and T-shirts for the trip, West Lancs Council for supporting the young participants with a grant towards our trip and our church family at St John the Baptist, Burscough.

"This shows our community working together and supporting each other."

To hear more about the project visit St John's harvest service on Sunday, October 13. Alternatively, you can check out Facebook page, St Johns Burscough - Uganda 2020.

Rotary club donation produces double dividend for charity

Report by Kenny Parker

A FUNDRAISING drive by members of the Rotary Club of Ormskirk Clocktower on behalf of underprivileged chilldren in Africa has produced a double dividend.

During the year 2018-19 the club teamed up with UK-based charity Porridge and Rice to install much-needed hand washing facilities at the Excel Emmanuel School, one of the charity's partner schools in the slums of Nairobi, Kenya.

Porridge and Rice's aim is to alleviate poverty through education which also incorporates a feeding programme - hence its name.

It also runs a health and hygiene programme so enabling the children to wash their hands was a vital part of the planned improvement.

Now a donation of £1,552 by the Rotary Club of Ormskirk Clocktower has enabled the charity to install a washing station with eight taps and a 5,000-litre water tank. Previously all the school had was a single tap and bucket.

The original target was to raise the funding for one station but the final amount means that they will be able to provide two complete stations - and go a good way towards a third!

Rotary club president, Steve Graham, said: "We are so pleased that we have been able to partner with Porridge and Rice to provide the funds to build the new washing stations. I know it will help stop the spread of disease which can have a devastating impact in some of the poorer countries in the world."

Council lists possible projects to benefit from its share of 'Historic High Streets' funding

Report by Kenny Parker

WEST Lancs Council has drawn up a 'shortlist' of projects which might benefit from Ormskirk's allocation of government funds to help revive historic high streets.

Following on from the announcement that Ormskirk is one of 69 towns chosen to receive a share of the £95 million earmarked for the scheme, the borough council has named the areas in which it intends to invest - depending on how much it actually is awarded.

Although the final sum has yet to be announced, Historic England revealed that the authority had originally applied for £763,000.

What is known, however, is that Ormskirk will get a share of £18.7m that has been allocated for 14 towns in the North West.

The government says it is giving the cash as part of Historic England's High Street Heritage Action Zone scheme which aims to create lasting improvements to town centres for the communities who use them by supporting economic and cultural growth, and enhancing local historic character.

West Lancs Council says that proposals being looked at as part of the next stage of the bid include:

- Improvements to Moor Street at its junction with St Helens Road.
- A lighting project to link the historical landmarks of Ormskirk Parish Church and the Clock Tower.
- A heritage-based environmental scheme to provide space for Ormskirk Market to grow.
- A celebration of the town's historic network of alleyways by introducing heritage signage, lighting and public art.

A council spokesperson said that which of these initiatives will proceed will be largely determined by the level of funding the authority actually receives from government.

The proposals seek to complement the public realm scheme proposed for Wheatsheaf Walk, which the council believes has the potential to be a much-loved public square.

Council leader, Councillor Ian Moran, said: "The council is delighted its bid for Ormskirk has been successful. Ormskirk has a strong and proud heritage which the creation of a Heritage Action Zone will build upon and council staff will work with Historic England to create the best possible programme."

The national initiative will be funded by combining £40 million from the Department for Digital, Culture Media and Sport's Heritage High Street Fund with £52 million from the Ministry of Housing, Communities, and Local Government's Future High Street Fund.

A further £3 million will be provided by the National Lottery Heritage Fund to support a cultural programme to engage people in the life and history of their high streets.

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper welcomed the funding which she said she had urged the authority to bid for.

Improvements to Moor Street (above) at its junction with St Helens Road is among the list of projects being looked at by West Lancs Council.

Village hall fundraisers aiming for record sum in aid of cancer charity

THE team behind Aughton Village Hall's annual coffee morning for Macmillan Cancer Research are hoping to smash previous fundraising efforts at their 2019 event.

A fundraising coffee morning has been held at the hall on Winifred Lane for the past five years and last year's event raised more than £1,600 for the charity.

This year's event will be held Sunday, September 29, between 10am and 1pm when they will be attempting to do even better and surpass last year's total.

There will be the usual coffee and a tempting selection of homemade cakes, a tombola and raffle, with prizes supplied by local people and businesses, live music and other opportunities to raise funds for the cause.

Anyone who can help by baking cakes or by helping on the morning is asked to contact Sue Watkinson on 01695 422423; or just go along and enjoy the event for a suggested £3 donation for hot drinks and cakes.

Therapy ponies are just the tonic for patients!

THERAPY ponies trotted into action when they visited patients at Southport and Ormskirk hospitals last week.

One of the ponies, called 'Wish upon a Star', dropped into Ormskirk Hospital to spend time with young patients on the children's ward and those waiting in A&E.

'Blondie' then dropped by Southport Hospital where staff brought patients from the intensive care unit down to the Garden of Reflection, to spend time with the therapy pony.

Head of nursing, midwifery and therapies, Juliette Cosgrove, said: "Having therapy animals meet our patients and staff really puts a smile on people's faces. We have recently been lucky to have therapy dogs visit on several occasions and they are really popular too, with staff and patients. But these little ponies were really something special. We look forward to seeing them again very soon.

"The ponies were kindly brought to the trust by KL Pony Therapy and we would like to say a heartfelt thank-you for this."

Misery for Thomas Cook staff and customers as travel company collapses

Report by Henry James

The Thomas Cook store in the Concourse shopping centre, Skelmersdale which has now closed along with the company's other branches throughout the UK.

THOMAS Cook staff and customers in Skelmersdale have been left devastated by the collapse of the holiday firm.

Thousands of stranded holidaymakers are now part of a huge government repatriation effort.

Thomas Cook ceased trading on Monday (September 23) leaving all of its 600 branches in the UK closed, including its shop at the Concourse shopping sentre in Skelmersdale. The collapse of the company has put 22,000 jobs at risk worldwide including 9,000 in the UK.

Work is now underway to bring home more than 150,000 British holidaymakers after the government launched the biggest ever peacetime repatriation, called Operation Matterhorn.

Meanwhile, local holiday company Hays Travel, which is based in Ormskirk and Skelmersdale, have tried to reassure their own customers who have booked through Thomas Cook.

A spokesperson said: "We are very sad to hear the news about Thomas Cook and our thoughts are with all Thomas Cook staff and customers.

"To all our customers who are booked on a Thomas Cook holiday or flight, we will be proactively contacting you in departure date order over the coming hours and days.

"All Thomas Cook holidays and flights purchased through Hays Travel are fully protected and your money is safe.

"We understand the importance of your holiday and that this will be an anxious time for you. Please be assured that our teams are ready and able to support you with re-booking your holiday or obtaining a refund.

"Please bear with us during this busy period. We may not meet our usual service standards but we will get to every customer in as timely a fashion as possible."

A statement on the Thomas Cook website reads: "The UK business has ceased trading with immediate effect and all future flights and holidays are cancelled. A dedicated support service is being provided by The Civil Aviation Authority to assist customers currently overseas and those in the UK with future bookings. Please visit: thomascook.caa.co.uk for further information."

Fears for tenants and landlords after estate agents goes bust

Report by Kenny Parker

Kevin Scott, immediate past President of the Rotary Club of Maghull and Aughton.

AN estate agency run by a former president of The Rotary Club of Maghull and Aughton has gone bust leaving landlords in the area concerned they could lose thousands of pounds in lost rents, and tenants fearing for their deposits.

Loc8, based at Central Square, Maghull, of which the rotary club's immediate past president Kevin Scott is a director, has applied for voluntary insolvency as its latest accounts submitted to Companies House revealed it owes £413,057.

The Champion understands Loc8 managed more than 180 properties and tenants deposits were not secured.

Marketed

Loc8 has not responded to requests for comment from the Champion. However, Path Business Recovery (PBR) has confirmed that the business has gone into voluntary liquidation and that concerns have been raised about landlord income and tenant deposits.

Philip Lawrence, senior manager at Manchester-based PBR, said: "I can confirm that Path Business Recovery have been instructed to assist with placing the company into Creditors' Voluntary Liquidation and the business is currently being marketed for sale.

"It would appear that there are a number of concerns regarding the safeguarding of landlord rental income and tenancy deposits, however given that we are at a very early stage in our investigations, we are unable to provide further clarification at this stage.

"Any further enquiries can be directed to Path Business Recovery at confidential@pathbr.co.uk or on 0161 413 0999."

The Champion has attempted to contact Loc8 and Kevin Scott but without success.

More types of plastic waste can be recycled from next month

Pots, tubs and trays can be added to recycling bins - but county council says make sure they're clean

Report by Kenny Parker

From October 1, Lancashire County Council will process more types of plastic waste.

FROM October 1 residents in Lancashire will be able to recycle more of their plastic waste.

In addition to the plastic bottles for liquids which are already collected, Lancashire County Council will also recycle plastic pots, tubs and trays put in recycling bins. These include yoghurt pots, margarine tubs, and meat, fruit and vegetable trays of any shape or colour.

Although West Lancashire Borough Council organises the collection of recycled waste it is processed by the county council.

And the authority is urging people to rinse items to make them more valuable to reprocessing companies and maximise the likelihood that they will be recycled.

To see whether an item is recyclable check the number stamped on it. Anything with a number 1, 2 or 5 within the recycling triangle should go into your recycling bin.

County Councillor Albert Atkinson, Lancashire's cabinet member for waste management, said: "It's great that we can now recycle more plastic and if everyone adds pots, tubs and trays to all the things they already recycle it will make a real difference.

"Recycling these extra plastics is very simple - the colour and shape of the container doesn't matter - the main thing is to check that it can be recycled and give it a rinse. This helps to make sure things aren't rejected when they go through our system.

"Food left on the container can also make it unsuitable for reprocessing, resulting in the plastic not getting recycled.

"It's also important that items are kept loose so we can sort them and not in bags or boxes."

Plastic items that are currently accepted in recycled waste are plastic bottles, including, for example shampoo and detergent bottles, and plastic lids either on or off the bottles.

From October 1 the following will also be accepted:

- Solid lids on pots tubs and trays.
- Pots (e.g. yogurt, soup, etc.).
- Tubs (e.g. margarine, ice cream, etc.).

University study helps to develop app to ease children's fears about hospital procedures

A STUDY at Edge Hill University to help develop and evaluate an app for children going to hospital for a procedure has shown that its use reduces fear and anxiety in them and their parents.

Professor of Child Health Literacy, Lucy Bray, carried out the study with children, parents and health professionals at the Royal Manchester Children's Hospital, thanks to funding from the UK's Innovation Agency,.

Stage one involved interviewing children aged eight to 12 years and their parents visiting the hospital for clinical procedures such as X-Rays, surgical admissions, MRI scans and blood tests.

Lucy and her team found visiting hospital was stressful and disorientating and led to high levels of anxiety caused by poor preparation and information.

They then worked with Manchester-based digital agency Corporation Pop on the content for the Xploro app which uses 3D images, augmented reality and games to deliver relevant hospital and health information.

Stage two of the study involved interviewing 80 children/parents visiting hospital for a planned procedure, with 40 children using the app and 40 receiving the usual hospital information.

Professor Lucy Bray.

Information was collected before the children and parents went to hospital, when they arrived and after the procedure was completed.

The study showed that children using the app had significantly more knowledge, less anxiety about their procedure and were more satisfied with their hospital experience and felt more involved in decisions.

Professor Bray, said: "Children can often find going to hospital for a procedure an anxious time. This research show that if they have access to engaging and accurate information they can have a better experience when they come to hospital, be less anxious and be more prepared for what will happen.

"The app can also help parents feel less anxious and learn about what might happen so they can support their child."

Parents also praised the app.

Professor Bray, added: "These initial findings show the benefits of the app, but we need to do further study on a larger group of children, across multiple sites, to help us know more about the use of the app with the children."

This latest research adds to other work by Lucy with colleagues at Edge Hill where they created a comic book and animation to help children feel less worried about going to hospital.

The Children Coming to Hospital resources were awarded 'highly commended' at the British Medical Association Patient Information Awards.

Dedicated police task force to tackle 'issues that matter most to people' across county

Report by Henry James

LANCASHIRE Constabulary is to introduce a dedicated task force of police officers tackling issues "that matter most to people."

The task force will be split into proactive teams of four or five officers in each of the county's nine areas - including four in West Lancs - with the responsibility for tackling local priorities including drug dealing, anti-social behaviour and burglary, alongside disrupting organised crime group activity and targeting outstanding offenders.

Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw said: "The Government's funding announcement at the end of last year made it clear that the only way to raise funds to put extra officers on our streets, which the people of Lancashire consistently tell me is what they want to see, was to fully utilise the council tax flexibility given to Police and Crime Commissioners.

"This was the only option provided by Government to protect and bolster policing here in Lancashire and not using it would have meant a further cut to the budget and 125 fewer police officers.

Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw.

"Thanks to support from the public, I'm pleased to say that for the first time since 2010 investment is being made into policing here in Lancashire with additional officers going into every district, focusing on reducing and preventing crime and dealing with the issues that matter most to people."

Specialist target teams are also being strengthened to tackle cross-border crime and criminality, focusing on burglary and robbery and there has been an uplift in detectives following public feedback to prioritise investigations around major crimes, child exploitation and domestic abuse.

A new drone team is also operational across the force, with two drones paid for by the proceeds of crime, and a team of four officers funded by the council tax precept. This new technology has been invaluable supporting policing operations including events, missing people and warrants.

Lancashire Constabulary's chief supintendent Sam Mackenzie commented: "The introduction of these officers is great news and puts extra officers into our communities.

"The roll-out of the Neighbourhood Policing task force will help us to continue tackling key crime hotspots and allow us to be more proactive in preventing the crimes that concern us all the most. I expect their impact to be significant in every corner of the county. I believe these officers will make a real difference in our community and look forward to seeing the effects they have."

The task force is scheduled to be in place across the county by November 1.

Open day about future options for village hall

AN open day will be held at Mawdesley Village Hall, Hurst Green on Saturday, October 12 from 11am to 4pm.

Aim on the day is to find out what local people want from the hall in future.

Chairman of the trustees, Mike Henty, said: "The hall is well used by local groups and is a popular venue for weddings and other social events. We plan to invest in the facilities and want local people to come along and tell us what they think we do well and what we might do better.

"We have already had a number of suggestions such as a community cinema and a fully-equipped meeting room and any other ideas, big and small, would be most welcome and we want to hear from people of all ages."

The day will also involve displays from a number of local groups who currently use the hall. And the bar will be open and refreshments available.

'Official' birthday is my claim to a Royal connection

I HAVE something in common with Her Majesty the Queen. Yes, really. We both have a real birthday and an 'official' one.

Mind you, this similarity only goes back a couple of years, but both I and Her Majesty, I would think, have an official birthday for very practical (if totally different) reasons.

My real birthday is in the middle of November, making me a Scorpio and for most of my life this has been very satisfactory for me. I have long held the view that the time of year in which you were born always seems somehow attractive and certainly I am drawn to the gloomy, dank and sometimes rather wet November evenings.

November to me seems to mark a real change in the weather and since it's not even supposed to be warm and sunny it rarely disappoints in that regard, while still managing the odd few genuinely delightful sharp, blue sky days.

So I have nothing whatever against recognising the real date of my birth, except for a purely practical one which only really raised its head after my brother George died in November 2013 - exactly a week after my birthday.

It had become my practice way back in the last century to celebrate my birthday away from home. After all, if I stayed put I would no doubt be showered with gifts and cards, which would be an embarrassment! So back in the late 1970s I began a custom of swanning off for a 'short week' in the Isle of Man - I love the place - sometimes with my dad, sometimes with George.

But when George and I bought our lovely old motor cruiser Manxman in 1984 it made sense instead to have a week's late cruise on the Norfolk Broads and this proved very successful for many years. We did experience the full gamut of November weather, ranging from beautiful sunny days to a full snow storm and occasional ice too. But no problems really, particularly since we nearly always had one or two members of family or friends along to help.

Our final November cruise together was in 2012. In 2013 George feared he would be in hospital on my birthday (as indeed he was) so we decided to take our final cruise for the year in the last week in October.

After George's death I resumed the November 'birthday' cruise but it was never the same. And it was little fun becoming ice-bound (in 2016 I couldn't even get the boat back to its berth because Barton Broad was totally iced over) or for that matter 'celebrating' my birthday alone with dogs Tina and Cinders - neither of whom even sent me a card any more.

So I decided on an 'official' birthday - October 18 - when I can hopefully still be able to cruise the Broads before the ice sets in.

Actually, I'll let you into a little secret. As a boy I did harbour the idea that when I grew up (I'm still waiting for that to happen) I would marry Princess Anne, though realistically even then I could foresee difficulties. I never really even solved the problem of when and where we could first meet (the Saturday matinee at the old Albany cinema - now the site of an Aldi supermarket - somehow didn't seem quite to fill the bill).

So my only real connection with Royalty will have to remain my 'official' birthday and I have yet to get round to inviting Her Majesty to share my Birthday Cruise. Manxman does look very smart at the moment and does boast central heating (of sorts) TV and a shower, but somehow I think she falls short of the former Royal Yacht Britannia in fittings, furniture and staff.

So I reckon me and the dogs will have to share the undoubtedly glorious delights of an autumnal Norfolk all alone.

At least at this time of year we should have no difficulty in finding moorings wherever we want - and since one of the problems with November was that it coincided with folk removing the fresh water pipes to guard against them freezing up, the earlier date should remove one problem at least. I and my crew are looking forward to it.

Local writer's work to feature alongside horror genre 'royalty' in charity anthology

Report by Kenny Parker

Andrew and wife Hazel with a copy of his Amazon best-seller.

A FORMER Ormskirk Grammar School pupil, who is an accountant by day while penning horror stories in his spare time, is set to have his work included in an anthology featuring stories by the world's most famous exponent of the genre.

Andrew Lennon, originally from Aughton but now living in Runcorn, was only too happy to oblige when invited to contribute to a new anthology to help raise money for victims of a mass shooting in USA.

And when he discovered that his efforts would be alongside contributions by award-winning English author, Neil Gamain and the legendary Stephen King - of Carrie, The Shining and The Green Mile fame - he was "over the moon."

The 34-year-old first took up writing horror in his mid-20s after being introduced to the books of Stephen King by his wife Hazel, a big fan.

Ecstatic

He has since gone on to become established in the field having written numerous horror/thrillers, including his Amazon best-selling collection of short stories Every Twisted Thought.

Talking about the new anthology, he said: "I was contacted by John Questore, the editor of the upcoming Dark Tides charity anthology. He was putting this piece together to raise money for the victims and families of the Virginia Beach mass shooting in May this year.

"He is local to the area and this hit him pretty hard as he knew a lot of the families involved.

"Obviously, I accepted his invitation without hesitation - anything to help such a worthy cause - and later that week he contacted me to say Neil Gaiman would also be in the anthology and I was ecstatic that I'd be appearing with one of the biggest authors in the world.

"I joked that all he had to do now was get King in there but he told me not to get too excited.

"Then a couple of weeks later, I got another message that Stephen King WAS in the anthology and I was jumping for joy!

"Years ago when I started writing, I joked with my wife that I'd be in a book with King one day, and it would be thanks to her for making me read his books.

"I was only too happy to help out anyway but when I found out about the other authors involved it was just a dream come true!"

The anthology is available for pre-order at www.indiegogo.com/projects/dark-tides-a-charity-horror-anthology#/.

Golf club ball raises £9,500 for Prince's Trust

A CHARITY ball at Hurlston Hall Golf Club has raised £9,500 for the Princes Trust in Lancashire.

Attended by about 80 guests, including local businessman and High Sheriff of Lancashire, Ralph Assheton, the event included a champagne reception, three-course lunch, entertainment, and a dance.

Jane Tapp, who has participated in a number of Prince's Trust programmes and is now a mentor, told the audience how the trust had helped her.

The total was raised through ticket sales, donations and an auction.

Danny Houghton from organisers Butterfly Ball Events - an independent charity established to raise money for the Prince's Trust - said they were "absolutely delighted" with the outcome.

The money raised will go towards various projects that the trust runs in Lancashire, including counselling, interview skills, preparing people for work, and helping young people to prepare business plans.

Danny Houghton said that Hurlston Hall had generously supported the event and added: "Lots of people had a very enjoyable afternoon. There was fine food, some good wine, and plenty of entertainment. Everyone came together to raise money for a really worthy cause."

Pictured at Hurlston Hall are Danny Houghton and Wendy Walker of Butterfly Ball Events; High Sheriff of Lancashire, Ralph Assheton; Karen Webster of The Prince's Trust; and David Smith of Butterfly Ball Events.

Pupils at Burscough Bridge Methodist Primary School dressed as characters from Roald Dahl books.

Primary pupils' 'Dahlicious' tribute to children's author

PUPILS at a West Lancs primary school celebrated the birthday of renowned children's author Roald Dahl by dressing up as their favourite characters from his books.

Burscough Bridge Methodist Primary held their 'Dahlicious Dress-up Day' on what would have been the late writer's 103rd birthday on Friday, September 13,

As part of the event the youngsters spent time learning about the life of the author, whose notable works include much-loved children's classics James and the Giant Peach and Charlie and the Chocolate Factory, and visited the youngest members of the school community at the on-site Buggy Club.

Headteacher Louise Tyrer said: "It was an enjoyable day for all the children and staff at the school but also for the people who go to the Buggy Club."

Police get 'smart' to step up fight against crime

Report by Henry James

Lancashire Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw is given a demonstration of the new technology in action by an officer.

POLICE across Lancashire are being equipped with new smartphone devices to ensure officers have the latest technology to support the vital work they do and enable them to spend more time on the streets.

The latest investment to upgrade the force's capabilities follows on from the first mobile technology roll-out in 2015.

And Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner, Clive Grunshaw joined an officer out in his role to see for himself how the investment is helping and hear how it supports their day-to-day work to keep people safe.

The technology means officers do not need to return to a police station to complete paperwork and instead can remain on the streets.

All officers in front-line operational roles will be provided with a Samsung Note 9 across immediate response, neighbourhoods and operations, with other roles having access to the Samsung A40.

Mr Grunshaw said: "Since initially investing into devices four years ago, I have seen how these have revolutionised the way that officers carry out their duties and allow more time in our communities instead of sat at a desk.

"After losing over 750 officers since 2010, this investment has been crucial in helping the force deal with the additional pressures that this, along with ever-increasing demands on the service, has placed on those who protect the people of Lancashire around the clock.

"Ensuring that our officers have the very best equipment to allow them to do their job is crucial and this investment recognises the positive response across the force from officers who have utilised the devices."

Chief Inspector Dave Hannan from Lancashire Constabulary said: "The set-up of the new devices is based on officers' feedback. It is quicker, which makes access to crucial information much faster. Officers have been very positive about the upgrade and appreciate the investment."

Village antiques store set for fourth TV appearance

A VILLAGE antiques shop is set to feature on TV - for a fourth time!

Old Corn Mill Antiques in South Road, Bretherton is no stranger to appearing on the small screen having played host to BBC's Celebrity Antiques Road Trip, Antiques Road Trip and Put Your Money Where Your Mouth Is.

This time around they were visited by Henry Cole and Simon O'Brien from Channel 4's Find it, Fix it, Flog It.

The programme sees Henry and Simon travelling around the UK seeking unique items to fix up and sell on for a profit.

Store owners Aiden and Helen Finn were delighted to welcome the TV presenters and film crew but were sworn to secrecy with regards to what was bought as the programme has yet to be screened.

Impression

And they believe the store certainly made an impression on their latest TV visitors.

Aiden said: "They couldn't believe the choice that we have to offer and certainly went away happy. It's going to be interesting to see what they turn their 'finds' into and if they make a profit."

Blue Badge can be the difference between being able to get out in the outside world or not for some with mental health issues

I WOULD like to respond to the reader who objects to the new rules regarding the Blue Badge and the inclusion of people with mental health-related difficulties.

The new ruling is long-awaited and much-needed and brings the issue of disabled parking very much up to date.

Mental health-related diagnoses cover a vast range of problems for those affected. Just because someone can walk does not necessarily dismiss their eligibility for being able to park near to exits and entrances of buildings, or indeed anywhere where someone's vehicle needs to be handy for their safety and others.

Disability is not always visible to the eye and the new criteria for parking concessions is much welcomed for those with autism, severe anxiety-related problems and other related disorders.

With regard to the reader's suggestion that the new rules leave the scheme open to abuse, this is nonsense. To be able to obtain a Blue Badge under these rules, a strict search of the applicant's medical details is made through relevant specialists, doctors and clinicians by local councils. If there is any doubt of eligibility the applicant is requested to attend an assessment.

Applicants must also be in receipt of the Personal Independent Payment allowance and score 8 points or above for the planning of journeys part of this allowance. The PIP allowance has strict criteria alone to be able to be in receipt of this.

The actual use of the Blue Badge will remain the same in that the applicant must be in or around their vehicle when the badge is on display. If this is not the case or a valid reason cannot be proved, then the badge will be taken by the parking enforcers at time of incident. Remember, the name of the badge holder IS on the badge along with their photo.

As for the Government giving in to the 'motorist lobby' as the reader suggested - absolute nonsense! This is about letting people who are affected by a severe mental disability be able to get out into the outside world knowing that they can park in more accessible places and that should they need to return to their car quickly, they can. Also for parents and carers of those affected.

It can be the difference between going out or not for some. So, please a less shallow-minded approach is required on this subject.

Janet Marshall, by email.

Authorities have measures in place to prevent abuse of scheme

RE: J. M. Berry of Aughton (Letters, September11) who objected to the extension of the Blue Badge scheme to people with mental health problems.

Firstly, J. M. Berry is writing to the wrong place to object. I think that would be local authority?

Secondly, it appears JM Berry has not suffered with mental health problems which make people feel trapped in their homes, unable to do the normal things that are taken for granted by people like J. M. Berry.

A Blue Badge will enable qualifying mental health sufferers to park in places which cause them the least anxiety and stress and live as normal a life as possible.

Why would J. M. Berry want to deny people this? If J. M. Berry is really worried about any abuse of the Blue Badge system, the local authority do have a system in place to identify any abuse.

Stress not J. M. Berry and chill out.

J. Evans, Ormskirk.

University should build a multi-storey car park to halt dangerous parking practice

TODAY I drove past Edge Hill and students had parked all along the main road leading out of Ormskirk due to the car park being full.

Cars where parked all the way to Scarth Hill Road, some doubled up on the front grass entrance of the university and others completely on the pavement. How are people with prams or in wheelchairs meant to get past?

Surely the council could enforce double-yellow lines along this stretch of road to prevent distributive parking as this is a national speed limit road and students are wandering in the road to reach their cars.

I think the university isn't doing enough to provide ample car parking for the students. Edge Hill is always having extensions to the campus, but never seems to increase the car-parking facilities. The university should be forced to provide more car parking in the form of a multi-storey car park if they are to continue to expand in the way it is.

In the short term, everyone who attends the campus, should be told it is wrong to park fully on the pavement as it is very inconsiderate and putting members of the public in danger as they try to pass - it is an accident waiting to happen.

Anna Hale, by email.

Surgery staff are a great credit to our health service

IN a year when the NHS has suffered many cuts and much criticism for difficulties in getting an appointment to see a doctor I'd like to point to my recent experience.

For different reasons my wife and I needed to see a doctor last week. On the Friday I went online to look for an appointment at Parbold Surgery, finding some on the following Monday and booking one at a more convenient time on Tuesday.

On that Monday I developed a problem which was quite painful and phoned the surgery at 3.45pm. I was offered an appointment at 4pm that day.

Of course, we were lucky, but even so I have always found the surgery willing to provide non-urgent appointments within a few days, and urgent ones within hours.

As always we were entirely satisfied with the care which we received at this time.

I think this reflects great credit on the medical staff of Parbold Surgery and also on their administration. Well done to you all.

Donal Monaghan, Parbold.

Path is a real drag for people trying to move their wheelie bins

I HAVE to agree with Barbara Bennett regarding her complaint about the path in Up Holland (Champion, September 18).

I grew up on Parsonage Road and know the path well and I sympathise with those who have to drag wheelie bins down it.

Councillor Moran's comments were not only contradictory, but show a total lack of interest. He goes on to say: "If no one tells us there is a problem, then how are we supposed to address it" yet before that he says "I was contacted and did respond last year." Whoops!

This doesn't exactly restore our faith in our council. They would soon come calling if we refused to pay our council tax.

How about showing your hard-working constituents the same level of hard work and honesty?

Mr. Dickinson, Up Holland.

We welcome your views...

IF you've got a view on a topic of local or national interest which you would like to share with the readers of the Champion, why not drop us a line?

Grass verges are not appropriate places for advertising cars for sale

I WOULD like to complain about people putting vehicles up for sale at inappropriate places.

I live in Rufford and on a notoriously dangerous multi-road junction, two separate car sellers have recently placed vehicles on a triangle of grass in an effort to find buyers.

Apart from the cars damaging our grass area, it's an unsightly addition to the area.

One had been there for weeks and the grass has had to be cut round it.

When the other arrived and the driver was approached about his decision he was rude and basically said he could do what he wanted.

This type of conduct is becoming all too familiar and I think unacceptable.

G. L. by email.

It's time to test the public view again

THE Brexit Party's prospective parliamentary candidate has evidently translated the 'almost 55%' Leave vote in West Lancs in the 2016 referendum into a call for a no-deal Brexit (Champion, September 18).

He now uses this as an argument against a second referendum, ignoring the facts that it is now three-and-a-half years since that referendum and circumstances have changed with the likelihood of a damaging crash out on October 31.

Surely it's time to test the public view again.

Dr Murray Steele, Ormskirk.

County council accused of 'moving goalposts' over pothole claims

LANCASHIRE County Council chiefs have been accused of "moving the goalposts" following claims that the majority of potholes in the county are now being fixed within target time scales.

The opposition Labour group on the authority say a new measuring standard introduced by the Conservative-led authority disguises the true story.

A recent council press release reported that 38% fewer potholes were found by highways inspectors or reported by the public in 2018/19 (39,137) compared with two years earlier in 2016/17 (62,564).

However Labour pointed out that figures issued by the county council's cabinet performance committee (September 12) admit the criteria for filling a pothole was changed by the council's Conservative leadership, writing: 'The approved highways defect repair policy was implemented during quarter 2 of 2018/19, meaning that reporting changed in accordance with that policy.'

According to Labour, this policy set a new 'minimum intervention level', by which potholes less than 4cm deep (and in pavement less than 2.5cm) are judged as requiring 'no intervention.'

They claim the new policy was accompanied by training courses for councillors, explaining how lesser depths would no longer count. Meanwhile, they say, highways officers were told to judge the new standard armed only with tape measures.

County Councillor Gillian Oliver.

And they add that the criteria changed after "a disastrous year for potholes at the county council in which only 64% were fixed within the target 20 days" compared to 97% only 14 months earlier under a Labour administration.

County Councillor Gillian Oliver, Labour's highways and transport lead, said: "This Conservative administration has moved the goalposts on potholes. They have purposefully excluded an unknown number of reports from the public and instructed officers to turn a blind eye to genuine defects. Then they call their reducing caseload a triumph! But this kind of triumph is one made in an office on a spreadsheet, and the people of Lancashire do not find it convincing."

However, cabinet member for highways and transport, County Councillor Keith Iddon, refuted the claims.

He said: "The claim that we have moved the goalposts is simply incorrect as what we call a pothole has not changed - the intervention level is still 40mm for roads and 25mm for pavements.

"We're pleased that our focus on preventative maintenance has helped to significantly reduce the numbers of potholes appearing.

"The change to the way we fix potholes introduced a system of prioritising repairs, which means that potholes on busier roads, where they present a greater risk, are fixed more quickly than those on quieter roads. The repair targets vary from four hours for emergencies to 20 working days for less urgent issues.

"Our performance against these targets is good and continuing to steadily improve - we're grateful that people are using our online Report It system to help us respond to any problems quickly and efficiently."

Parents urged to apply 'in good time' to get their preferred school places in 2020

EDUCATION chiefs at Lancashire County Council are urging parents to make sure they apply 'in good time' for primary or secondary school places for their children in 2020.

Applications opened on Monday, September 2 and closing dates are October 31 for secondary schools and January 15, 2020 for primary schools.

However, parents are advised to get their applications in as soon as possible to have a better chance of securing their preferred schools.

The county council's School Admissions and Fast Access manager, Debbie Ormerod, said: "It is really important that parents apply on time for a school place. Late applications are only considered after all the on time applications. If they apply late they may leave themselves in the position where they might not get one of their preferred schools."

In the online application, parents are asked to make three choices and Debbie Ormerod added: "I would encourage parents to make the most of those three school preferences.

"Some parents will only put one school down or put the same school down three times. However that does not increase the chances of success.

Priority

"It means that if we can't offer a particular school, we don't know where the parent will accept as an alternative. It is about making the best use of the three preferences and making use of them wisely."

She also stressed that different schools have different criteria for accepting applications.

"All the information is on the website. It tells you how each school gives a priority to places.

"The key is when putting down a preferred school to look at how they prioritise children for places and make sure you are making a wise use of that preference."

In 2018, 95% of parents applied online for primary and secondary school places with Lancashire County Council, although there are other ways to apply.

"People who don't have the Internet can make an online application at the library. We do have a supply of paper forms and we will send them out as well."

For more information go to www.lancashire.gov.uk/schools. Parents can also call 0300 123 6707.

Teenager wins GB Euro call-up

A TEENAGE martial arts exponent from Ormskirk will represent Great Britain at the Taekwondo Cadet European Championships in Spain, next month.

Mia Hadfield, a pupil at Scarisbrick Hall School, is a member of West Lancashire & Merseyside (WLM) Taekwondo in Maghull run by her parents, Peter and Lisa.

The 13-year-old, a third dan black belt, won her place at the championship by triumphing in the European Club Championships held in Greece earlier in the year.

She will be joined in Spain by clubmate Kevin Booth, also 13, from Seaforth. And a third WLM Taekwondo member, 14-year-old Jacob Wishart from Kirkby, will be competing at the Taekwondo Junior Europeans in the same week.

Mia's mum and club coach, Lisa Hadfield, said: "As a club, we are really proud of the level of commitment that these three have shown over the months. For the first time, we have students representing their country at both cadet and junior level - a massive achievement for WLM."

Injury cloud has a silver lining for wrestling ace

A TALENTED wrestler from Ormskirk grappled his way to a silver medal at a prestigious national event - despite competing with injuries to his arm and hand!

Byhrom Asgharyzadegan overcame the handicap to reach the final of British Senior Greco Roman and Vets Championships before finally going down to a three-times winner of the tournament.

The 31-year-old, a teacher at Pontville School in Aughton, had suffered an injury to his arm and a dislocated thumb in the run-up to the event in Manchester. The setbacks affected his training but he was determined to take part in the 62kg category - a weight he had never competed at before.

Heavily bandaged, the gutsy father-of-three, fought his way to the final before finally giving best to triple British champion, Farhad Sabourniani.

Although he missed out on the gold, Byhrom was happy with the result given the circumstances. And the occasion was also made more special as it was the first time his three-year-old son Jaxon had watched him perform.

He said: "It was the first time I competed in that weight but I feel it's one that I can excel in going forward.

"Four weeks before the championships I tore a ligament in my arm and a week after that I dislocated my thumb! My training was affected as I couldn't wrestle, drill technique or even lift weights - I just had to focus on cardio by going for lots of runs and swimming.

"I'm happy with my silver as my son came to watch me wrestle for the first time so it was nice to come away from the competition with a medal."

Byhrom sporting his silver medal with son Jaxon.

MP backs dementia awareness campaign

ROSIE Cooper is backing Alzheimer's Research UK's call for greater awareness of dementia and the need for more research.

Despite now being the UK's leading cause of death, a recent poll found that 22% still incorrectly believe that dementia is an inevitable part of getting older.

And following on from World Alzheimer's Day (Saturday, September 21) Alzheimer's Research UK has launched a major new awareness campaign fronted by actor Samuel L. Jackson.

The #ShareTheOrange campaign aims to highlight that physical diseases cause dementia using an orange to symbolise the weight of matter lost in the brain as the condition develops.

Hollywood star Samuel's family has been impacted by Alzheimer's more than most, having had six relatives diagnosed with the disease.

West Lancs MP Ms Cooper said: "Dementia has such a great impact on the lives of those living with it and their family, friends and carers, the more research we can do now the sooner we can find the cure and better ways to mitigate its effects and support people to live well with dementia."

New national Scams Action service is featured on TV

THE new national Citizens Advice Scams Action has been featured on ITV's Tonight programme.

The programme showed our website in detail and interviewed Martin Lewis, whose payout from Facebook, after his image was used in a series of online scams, has funded the service.

Martin said it would provide 'one-on-one help' for people worried they had been victims of a scam.

He also outlined what to look out for to avoid being scammed and said 'urgency and secrecy' are the two biggest red flags to show that a scammer might be at work.

I have mentioned Universal Credit fraud via supposedly government officials offering interest-free government loans . . . which do not exist.

Recently questions have been asked in Parliament and the House of Lords regarding claimants on legacy benefits being offered 'government loans' by strangers (sometimes pretending to be government officials) and then being persuaded into disclosing their personal details, so a universal credit (UC) claim can be made in their name.

The scammers then apply for a UC advance in the client's name and take a share of the advance as their 'fee'.

Clients often only realise they have been scammed when they discover that their legacy benefit claims have been closed and they now have a live UC claim and are expected to repay the UC advance, including any amount they have given to the scammer.

So what can victims do?

It's best if they contact their local Citizens Advice advisory centre for face-to-face help as there are a number of options, depending on individual circumstances.

For our readers in West Lancashire, Citizens Advice West Lancashire can be contacted at their advice centre in Unit 47, Concourse Shopping Centre, Skelmersdale, which is open Monday to Friday 9.30am to 4pm (telephone 0344 245 1294). You can also report to Action Fraud on 0300 123 2040 or online at www.actionfraud.police.uk.

You can also contact a Citizens Advice Scams Action adviser by calling 0300 330 3003.

The service is open from Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm. We're closed on bank holidays.

We don't charge for calls to the helpline. Your service provider could charge you for your call, but it should be free if either your contract includes all calls to landlines or you're within your free minutes allowance for calls to landlines

You might be charged if your contract doesn't include all calls to landlines or you've used all your free minutes.

There are some very useful tips and advice in Citizens Advice net content onscams. For computer literates here is the link: https://www.citizensadvice.org.uk/resources-and-tools/search-navigation-tools/Search/?q=Facebook+scams&c=TOP-PUBLIC.

I suggest that this is well worth saving as a favourite, and well worth a read. It covers most scam issues and gives advice on what to do. You are also able to chat with one of our advisors about your scam worries.

Merseyrail staff celebrate their latest national award.

Merseyrail hailed 'a great place to work'

MERSEYRAIL has been named the 'greatest place to work' at the National Rail Awards.

The rail organisation, which was named the most punctual operator in the UK for 2018-19, won the Great Place to Work award at a ceremony at the Grosvenor House Hotel in London.

And there was further success for the company on the night as Merseyrail was also highly commended in the Passenger Operator of the Year category - retaining recognition after winning the award in 2018.

Merseyrail employs around 1,200 people in the Liverpool City Region, making it one of the largest employers in the area.

The latest achievements come after Merseyrail swept the board at the 2018 National Rail Awards, becoming the first single operator to win three accolades - Passenger Operator of the Year, Customer Service Excellence Award and the Sustainable Development Award.

Andy Heath, managing director at Merseyrail, said: "Our staff are an integral part of our business and it is a privilege to be recognised as a great place to work within the rail industry.

"We have faced a number of challenges over the last year and Merseyrail's employees have been incredibly professional and passenger-focused both on the front line and behind the scenes.

"We are committed to providing the best possible service to our passengers in the Liverpool City Region, so to be highly commended in the Passenger Operator of the Year category at such a prestigious awards ceremony is a real testament to the work carried out by our staff and partners."

Artisan sales planned to fund village community centre redevelopment

The events, organised by Sue Ellis and running from 11am to 3pm, will be held on Sunday October 6; Saturday, November 2; Sunday, December 8; Saturday, January 11; and Sunday, February 2.

Sue said, "The centre in raising funds to redevelop the site and so far our events and activities, including these artisan sales, have raised over £6,500. But, we have a very long way to go, so we hope that the local community will continue to support our fundraising efforts."

Admission to the sales is free and they will feature a mixture of stalls and a cafe selling light lunches and cakes.

The first sale on October 6 will include artwork, cards, jewellery, glassware, soaps and pottery along with face painting, hook-a-duck and a surprise for children.

Stalls cost £10 and are booking up quickly. For more information go to www.facebook.com/heskethbank-communitycentre or ring Sue Ellis on 07956 986546 or email sue@hesketh-bankcommunitycentre.org.uk.

Couple tackling marathon walk in aid of four worthy causes

Report by Henry James

A COUPLE from West Lancashire are walking more than 1,000 miles to raise money for four charities.

The marathon fundraiser by Hedley Lawson and his partner Shelly Hollywood will take them from John O'Groats to Lands End, a total of 876 miles, which the couple aim to complete in a number of separate sections, returning using their bus passes!

They are also staging a similar walk from Southport to Cleethorpes (160 miles in total) again walking in sections and returning by bus.

Proceeds from their efforts will be donated to Macmillan Cancer Care; the When You Wish Upon A Star charity; Queenscourt Hospice; and Marie Curie Nurses.

And 67-year-old Hedley said they planned to call in at Wetherspoons pubs for a drink during their walks in the hope that the pub company will contribute sponsorship.

The couple have personal reasons for supporting Queenscourt and Marie Curie.

A good friend of Hedley's on the local Northern Soul scene was cared for at the Southport hospice and fellow members of the 'soul community' have donated; while Shelly's late father was cared for at a Marie Curie hospice in Newry, Northern Ireland.

Meanwhile, as well as piling up the £s, Hedley is aiming to shed the lbs. Currently weighing in at 15 stone he is hoping the walks will help him get down to a trimmer 12 stone mark.

Anyone wishing to support the couple can contact Hedley on 01695 732944.

Library set to become 'Fun Palace' for a day

ORMSKIRK library will become a 'palace of fun' for a day on Saturday, October 5 when a weekend of free activities for all ages is held in local libraries, museums, archives and community venues across Lancashire as part of a national festival of art and science.

Fun Palaces weekend is an annual celebration by local people of their own communities bringing together arts and sciences, crafts, technology and digital activities.

Ormskirk library in Burscough Street is taking part for the third time this year when scheduled sessions are as follows:

- 10am to 3pm Play Giant Chess.
- 10am to noon Elderflower Jewellery.
- 10am to 1pm Library Crazy Golf.
- 10am to 1pm Fir Cone Decorations;.
- 10am to 1pm The Art of Lacemaking.
- 2 to 3pm Grass hair creations;.
- Noon to 12.40pm Ukulele workshop.
- Noon to 2pm Book sculpting.
- 1 to 2pm Blackout Poetry.
- 2 to 3pm Bird feeders.
- 10am to 1pm Little Boxes.

County Councillor Peter Buckley: "Fun Palaces is a really engaging event that gives people the opportunity to enjoy and get involved in arts and science."

- 10am to 1pm Card making.
- 10.30am to 1.30pm Felt flowers.
- 1 to 3pm Notebooking.

All activities are free and are offered on a first come, first served basis. Organisers advise that times and activities are subject to change. For more information visit www.lancashire.gov.uk and search Fun Palaces.

County Councillor Peter Buckley, Lancashire County Council's cabinet member for community and cultural services, said: "Fun Palaces is a really engaging event that gives people the opportunity to enjoy and get involved in arts and science.

"It has really grown in popularity in Lancashire. When we held this event for the first time in 2013 we had one venue taking part, this year we have 25.

"Talented people from the community and local organisations have offered their skills to create a programme of hands-on activities at each venue involving music, arts, crafts and fun science workshops.

"The annual weekend of events is created by, for and with local people, bringing together arts and sciences. Across the county people will be meeting to make and share art, science, learning, technology, digital activities, culture, heritage and games. It is all free and fun."

Fun Palaces was first started by theatre director Joan Littlewood more than 50 years ago at the Theatre Royal Stratford in the East End of London, where she brought artists and scientists together to show how everyone can get involved in different aspects of popular culture.

One Man, Two Guvnors highlight of new season

PARBOLD Picture House has released its list of cinema and theatre streamings for the autumn and winter months.

On Sunday, September 29 at 7pm people can see The Kindergarten Teacher. It is directed by Sara Colangelo and stars Maggie Gyllenhaal, and Gael Garcia Bernal. In the film a teacher thinks a child is a genius poet.

Then on Thursday, September 26 at 7pm there is a chance to see the National Theatre production of One Man, Two Guvnors by Richard Bean, based on The Servant of Two Masters by Carlo Goldoni. It features a Tony Award-winning performance from the host of The Late, Late Show, James Corden. The hilarious West End and Broadway hit One Man, Two Guvnors returns to cinemas to mark National Theatre Live's 10th birthday.

On Sunday, October 13 at 7pm people can watch Ash is Purest White. It is directed by Jia Zhang-Ke and stars Liao Fan and Zhao Tao. The film is set in China in 2001 at a time of rapid changes. It features a depressed mining-town, rootless lower-class gangs and what happens to their world when change comes.

A Midsummer Night's Dream by William Shakespeare from the Bridge Theatre in London is being shown at 7pm on Tuesday, October 22. The production is directed by Nicholas Hytner and stars Gwendoline Christie (Game of Thrones), and Oliver Chris (Green Wing, NT Live: Young Marx).

On Sunday, October 27 at 7pm people can see Red Joan. It is directed by Trevor Nunn and stars Judi Dench and Sophie Cookson. The film is inspired by the KGB's longest serving British spy.

The National Theatre Live production of Hansard by Simon Wood will be streamed on Thursday, November 7. It is directed by Simon Godwin (NT Live: Antony & Cleopatra, and Twelfth Night). It stars Olivier Award winners: Lindsay Duncan (Birdman, About Time) and Alex Jennings (The Lady in the Van, The Queen). The production is a portrait of a day in the country home of a Tory politician and his wife but all is not blissful.

People can see Yuli – the Carlos Acosta story on Sunday, November 10 at 7pm. It is directed by Iciar Bollain and has a script by Paul Laverty. It tells the story of Carlos Acosta from the streets of Cuba to principal dancer at London's Royal Ballet. The film is an account of life in Cuba.

Fans of the old Land Rover Defender now have two new off-roaders to choose from

THE NEW DEFENDER IS A proper Land Rover. Or is it?

Apologies if this sounds almost exactly like the opening to last week's Life On Cars column, but it turns out that barely a week after it was announced that some blokes who met up in their local pub have announced their own equally no-frills off-roader.

In fact, they're so proud of their beverage-based flash of inspiration that they've actually named their new offering after it.

I kid you not.

The Grenadier – the car, not the London watering hole famed for its whiskies and real ale – is apparently going to go on sale in 2021, so it'll be at least a year behind the new Defender, but the chaps behind it are promising all sorts of Land Rover-ish things that farmers familiar with the old model will doubtless appreciate.

Where the new Defender is going for more car-like monocoque construction for the first time, the Grenadier is sticking with an old-fashioned ladder frame chassis, which is simpler and easier to adapt to different bodystyles.

It'll have beam axles, permanent four-wheel-drive and a boxy, no-nonsense exterior.

Sound familiar? Then there are the engines, which are being sourced from BMW in much the same way a certain other specialist in mud-pluggers used to do.

Nor will there be any plug-in hybrids or zero emissions electric models – apparently, the car's pale ale-swigging purveyors thought about it, but decided no-nonsense turbodiesels and petrols would do just fine, thanks.

Only said blokes, while they really did come up with the idea in the pub, aren't overenthusiastic CAMRA members with a better grasp of Doom Bar than doomed British car designs.

These chaps are not like all those tiny British sports car companies who attempt to take on Porsche with a budget of £12.50; nope, they all happen to work for a petrochemical company called Ineos, which is investing a not inconsiderable £600 million in the project.

It also employs 22,000 people, and reckons it'll take on about 500 more making the new off-roader.

Three blokes nailing bits together in a shed this isn't – and it's pulled off a PR coup by announcing, just days after the Slovakian-built Defender was unveiled, that the Grenadier will be built right here in Blighty (South Wales, since you're asking).

But it'll only out-Defender the Defender if it can get one crucial bit right; the price. Land Rover's new offering starts at £45k in short-wheelbase 90 form, so the unapologetically unsophisticated Grenadier will have to start at a fraction of that to win over all those farmers, squaddies and forestry workers.

That, I reckon, is the opening salvo in the most intriguing motoring battle in years.

All this from a couple of car nuts in a pub. Cheers!

Nissan Juke rival is a plug-in hybrid

AN ALL-NEW replacement for Renault's Captur will go on sale early next year.

The Nissan Juke rival is based around the same basic components as the latest Clio, and for the first time it'll be available as a plug-in hybrid.

It'll also be sold with a choice of three petrol and two turbodiesel engines.

There's no word on UK prices yet, but expect them to start at around £15,000.

Right: Renault is replacing its Captur with this all-new model

It's business as usual at 06 Skelmersdale... with an exciting addition!

We have had some feedback from some of our customers that we have been taken over or that we are no longer Vauxhall.

We just wanted to inform to put the record straight, we are still a Vauxhall dealer, we sell new and used Vauxhall models as well as servicing, repairing and carrying out Vauxhall warranty work, just as before.

The only difference is now we also sell new and used Mitsubishi, giving our customers even more choice. Please rest assured 06 Skelmersdale is still owned by 06, the family business that prides itself on the customer care it has always provided.

So please tell all your family and friends, it's business as usual for Vauxhall at Skelmersdale but also now we have Mitsubishi as well.

Bootle crowned champions as season draws to thrilling finale

Report by Glenn Wallworth

- Ormskirk clinch runners-up spot with victory at Formby
- S&B lose but avoid relegation to maintain top flight status

THE final round of matches in the Liverpool & District Cricket Competition threw up a few nerve jangling moments for many of our local clubs across all three divisions.

Bootle clinched the Premier Division title with a closely fought five run win at Lytham, the result saw the hosts who needed to win to stay up relegated to the First Division.

Bootle were asked to bat first and runs from Will Hale 70 and skipper Neil Williams 34 enabled them to declare on 167-8, with Anthony Mulligan taking 3-25. Lytham made a decent start before Jhangir Liaqat ripped out opener Matt Cartmell 31 and the middle order with 4-37, leaving Lancashire's Steven Croft 54 and Alex Mason to fight a lone battle which finally ended when Mason was run out for 42, leaving the hosts all out for 162, with Scott Butterworth taking 3-59.

Ormskirk took the runners up spot with a four wicket win at Formby, the hosts chose to bat with Sam Oldham 67* and Ollie Sutton 22 top scoring as they were dismissed for 145, with Scott Lees 3-31 and Tom Hartley 3-35 on form with the ball. Ormskirk slipped to 13-3 in reply, but runs from Alex Rankin 30, Hartley 28, Gary Knight 24 then set up Harvey Rankin 30* and Ryan Maddock 21* to take them to victory on 146-6.

Northern wrapped up their campaign with a five wicket home win against New Brighton, the visitors elected to bat and managed to put 152 up on the board, with Mark Rowland 69 and skipper Andrew Clarke top scoring, whilst the pick of the bowlers were Callum Snaylam 4-8 and Tom Sephton 4-68. In reply, Justin Snow 46* and Jonny Browne 44* took the hosts to victory on 153-5 with Ashraf Nawab claiming 3-55.

Chris Firth's final match in his role as skipper of Southport & Birkdale saw his side beaten by 38 runs at Wallasey, but their top flight status was sealed later on when Lytham failed to beat Bootle, meaning S&B remain in the Premier Division and Lytham and Colwyn Bay are relegated.

Wallasey chose to bat with Alex Eagles 29 and Greg Beaver 25 top scoring as they were dismissed for 128 with spinners Gary Keedy 5-30 and Firth 3-22 taking the bulk of the wickets. In reply, Dean Skelton who was playing his first top flight match of the season top scored with 42 as the visitors were dismissed for 90, with Neil Cross taking 5-38.

First Division

In the First Division, Fleetwood Hesketh looked destined for the drop a fortnight ago after being stuck in the relegation zone for seventeen weeks, but two consecutive wins in their final two matches including a seven wicket home win against Northop Hall on Saturday meant they secured their status in the division, whilst Wavertree and Prestatyn were relegated.

Northop chose to bat and thanks to Alex Smith 43, Ben Slater 34* and Jamie Hodgson 28 were able to declare on 175-7 with Bobby Wincer taking 4-80. In reply, Luke Tinsley 48, Matty Howard 42 and Wincer 41 all paved the way for Andrew Watts to blast an unbeaten 41 off just 18 balls and take the hosts to victory on 178-3.

Ainsdale ended the season with a huge 157 run defeat at Rainford, the hosts piled up 234-3 declared up on the boards thanks to a maiden first team century from Ehren Agarwol (101*) and 91 from skipper David Snellgrove. In reply, two wickets apiece from Rainford's five bowlers helped dismiss Ainsdale for just 77 with Connor Windell top scoring with 20.

Second Division

In the Second Division, Burscough recorded a very comfortable 96 run home win against Parkfield Liscard, after being put in the hosts rattled up 252-6 declared thanks to a century from Jon Stone (100 inc 8x4 & 4x6) and 62 from Navdeep Aujla. In reply, 4-25 from Daniel Unsworth and 3-28 from Aujla helped bowl out the visitors for 156.

Southport Trinity lost by 24 runs at home against Sutton, the visitors chose to bat and thanks to 99 from Joe Noctor and 42 from Gary Greener they were able to declare on 220-9, with Jake Sunderland 4-30 and Tony Campbell 3-78 taking most of the wickets to fall. In reply, skipper Craig Prince 34 and Bobby Eyes 35 opened up with 83, but wickets then tumbled with only Wim Van Der Walt 24 and Jonny Hine 24 offering much more with the bat as the lower order failed to deal with Liam Dodd whose 6-51 helped dismiss the Rookerymen for 196.

Hightown St Mary's finished off with a 38 run defeat at Norley Hall, the hosts were grateful to runs from Jacob Hetherington 42, Daniel Fisher 29 and Michael Simpson 28 as they were dismissed for 171, with Jack Cosgrove 6-41 and Jayden Schadendorf 3-47 taking the majority of the wickets. In reply, runs from Joel Barlow 38, skipper Ben Ashcroft 33 and Schadendorf 24 weren't enough as the visitors were bowled out for 133 by an attack led by Ryan Wood with 7-63.

Maghull ended their campaign with a 41 run home defeat against already promoted St Helens, an unbeaten 103* (9x4 & 7x6) from Dan Roberts, plus 46 from Craig Woods, 44 from Ryan Donnelly and 40 from Liam Bowyer enabled the visitors to declare on 280-4 with Josh Garside taking 3-33. Declan Devine then hit a maiden century (102 inc 14x4 & 1x6), Ryan Swiers 29 and skipper Paul Walters 26 as the hosts were dismissed for 239, with Woods taking 4-55.

Well that's it for the 2019 LDCC match reports, but it's not over yet as over the next few weeks I will report on the highs, lows, comings and goings across all three divisions.

Skem concede four in another heavy defeat

Skelmersdale United 1
Longridge Town 4

SKELMERSDALE United conceded four goals for the second consecutive match in another heavy league defeat, writes Simon Driscoll.

After suffering a 4-0 loss in midweek against Irlam, they were well-beaten once more last Saturday at home to Longridge.

The visitors started the brighter and after clever play from Finlay Sinclair-Smith, Paul Turner clipped a shot past the near post in the opening minutes.

The two combined for the opening goal minutes later as Sinclair-Smith's shot cannoned off the bar and into the path of Turner who hit past Ben Barnes for 1-0 in the sixth minute.

Turner nearly turned provider as he fed Elliot Pond who could only fire over the target while at the other end, Eddie Toner hit a shot wide of the post. Town doubled the lead on 17 minutes with ex-United forward Tom Ince carving the defence open with a pass that found Turner who slotted past the oncoming Barnes for 2-0.

George Tomason saw a long range effort cannon back off the bar before Town struck a third, Pond cutting inside and slotting past Barnes for 3-0 on the half hour.

Ince drew a catch from Barnes with an angled free-kick before Pond scuffed a shot wide from a great position and Sinclair-Smith forced a strong parry from Barnes from close range. Sinclair-Smith tried his luck again minutes later as he dragged a shot across goal narrowly passing the far post just ahead of the interval.

The second half saw United start the brighter with Matthew Coughlan's long range curling effort collected by Lee Dovey before a great free-kick on debut from Peter Moore sailed past Dovey to cut the gap to 3-1 on 47 minutes.

Moore tried his luck again from a similar range minutes later and forced a superb diving save from Dovey who tipped the ball past the far post before an effort from the United scorer sailed high over the bar.

Pond drew a save from Barnes with a powerful effort at the other end while substitute John Keatley curled an effort past the post. Sinclair-Smith went close to extending the lead as he cut inside and and sent a shot past the post.

He did strike successful with six minutes to go as a solo run saw him link up with Ince before firing over Barnes into the net for 4-1. The final whistle minutes later was greeted with rapture from the travelling fans while United's mixed start to the month continued.

Skelmersdale travel to 1874 Northwich this Saturday.

Linnets thrashed by promotion chasers

Northwich Victoria 6
Burscough 1

BURSCOUGH were hit for six as they were dealt a thrashing at the hands of a strong Northwich Victoria, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

The Linnets started well and took the lead, holding a 1-0 advantage for 25 minutes and could have even added to the lead.

After absorbing the best of Northwich's attacking talents in the early stages it was Burscough who started to pose some problems.

In the 12th minute when the home defence was split and Peter Henerty was put through on goal.

He beat goalkeeper Danny Taberner with his shot but was frustrated by the post.

Two minutes later Burscough did take the lead; Taberner was unable to deal with a corner under his crossbar and diverted the ball into his own net.

Burscough were doing well at this time and only a superb acrobatic save by Taberner prevented them from making it 2-0.

Northwich got back on top again and Jamie Reed put a shot just wide of the Burscough post.

The host started to really turn the screw on Burscough and five minutes before half-time they struck, a ball was played to Reed at the far post where he had time to slot past Burscough goalkeeper Dominic Garner.

Any hopes Burscough had of hanging on until half-time were wiped away just inside added time, Tom Kilifin firing home with a low shot from about 18 yards.

Northwich are a good side and they were well aware that dropping points would hit their promotion aims, as such they continued to pile forward.

Reed was causing Burscough problems and Garner forced him wide before making a fine near-post save then the forward fired one attempt well over the crossbar.

Just before the hour mark Northwich grabbed the crucial third goal. Ben Greenop found space on the right and saw his shot well saved by Garner, however the ball ran free and Harvey Whyte made it 3-1.

If Burscough were not completely beaten at 3-1, they were 15 minutes from time when Reed got his second of the game, this time from the penalty spot.

Late goals from Greenop with a chip and Saul Henderson from close range rubbed salt into the wounds for Burscough.

Burscough host Padiham this Saturday with a 3pm kick off when they will hope to return to winning ways.
